

Meat Processing, General, Quality and Safety Skills

Stakeholder Feedback Report - Validation

August 2022

Final draft qualifications, skill sets and select units of competency for the Meat Processing, General, Quality and Safety Skills Project were made available on the Skills Impact website for stakeholder review and validation from 17 May to 14 June 2022. Please visit the website to view a full list of the documents that were submitted for consultation during this phase.

Feedback was received from a variety of stakeholders around the country through the Skills Impact Feedback Hub, webinars, phone and email, as follows:

	ACT	NSW	NT	QLD	SA	TAS	VIC	WA	National Government Federal Government State Government Local Employer
Peak Industry Body
IRC Representative
Regulator
Training Board
Registered Training Organisation (RTO)
Union
State Training Authority (STA)
Other

Note: there is no meat processing in the ACT. Industry representatives from Tasmania have participated in other stages of the consultation process.

Feedback received during the Validation period for the qualifications, skill sets and units of competency has been positive, with minor changes and updates suggested by stakeholders to help meet the needs the broad range of job roles covered by these qualifications. Below is a summary of the feedback raised during Validation for the Meat Processing, General, Quality and Safety Skills Project, and how these have been dealt with. This involves a consideration of the information provided, views of industry stakeholders and from people who are part of the Subject Matter Expert Working Group (SMEWG) process. Resolutions are constructed to consider the needs and views of stakeholders to the extent possible, and to comply with the Standards for Training Packages 2012. The resolutions may represent a compromise on one or more stakeholder views with the aim of a workable outcome for industry, State and Territory Training Authorities (STAs) and training providers.

Acronyms: PC – Performance Criteria, PE – Performance Evidence, KE – Knowledge Evidence, AC – Assessment Conditions, SMEs – Subject Matter Experts, SMEWG – Subject Matter Expert Working Group, CVIG – Companion Volume Implementation Guide, AMP – Australian Meat Processing, Industry Reference Committee, AS – Australian Standard, MWR – mandatory workplace requirements

Description

Organisation Type: Other

Coverage: National

Stakeholder Comments:

change the description statement, large domestic should change to domestic plants and that they check with the regulator to see if the micro units are accepted.

Consideration and Proposed Resolution: Adopted

Thank you for your feedback.

The description statement has been updated as suggested, and now reads:

This qualification includes two elective units that cover work in micro meat processing premises. Users must note that these units will not satisfy the regulatory requirements for meat inspection work in export premises or some domestic premises. Users must check with the relevant regulatory authority before delivery.

Individuals who work as meat inspectors must comply with the requirements of local/state/territory authorities and where applicable the Australian Government export authority.

Stakeholder Comments:

I am apposed to entry requirements. From my experience they add no value to the students and add a layer of cost to the RTO. Clearly the core units deliver the skill and knowledge of level 2 units and adding the entry requirement is unnecessary.

Bullet 11: Delete this dot point as this unit relates to ante-mortem.

This unit is about ante- mortem (inspecting live animals) so reference to carcasses is not applicable and meat inspectors usually apply four dispositions when performing ante-mortem inspection:-

- Passed for unconditional slaughter
- Passed for slaughter subject to conditions set by the meat safety inspector
- suspect animals
- emergency kill animals
- Withheld from slaughter
- Condemned

Animal withheld from slaughter can be further inspected by a veterinarian who may or may not take samples. I'm not sure why a meat safety inspector would needs to know sampling methods.

About the only thing I would suggest for micro establishment training (AMPMSY414), however it is encompassed by the Australian Standards is more emphasis on animal welfare requirements at ante mortem (transport, condition of yards, stocking density etc) and the collection of relevant information around the animals being presented for ante mortem inspection (identifying place of origin, previous veterinary application and treatments, residues, withholding periods, information that could affect post mortem dispositions, etc).

- I think it makes sense to merge the overview and lairage units together
- I like how it is not species specific as it can be used across multiple species
- “This unit applies to individuals who work as quality assurance managers or livestock clerks” – maybe in a domestic shed but it would be the lairage supervisor that would be responsible for receiving stock and checking devices not QA in export sheds
- They would monitor the stock coming off the truck and into lairage but they are generally not responsible for uploading data – PC3.1 might be an issue

Additional Stakeholder Support: RTO - National x 1

Stakeholder Comments:

Throughout this unit (performance criteria, performance evidence, knowledge evidence) insert the words "meat and" before the word "meat product"

Reason: Some meat businesses receive their meat in carcass or part carcass form. To cover all circumstances it would be better to say "meat and meat products".

In the Australian standard the following definitions apply

Meat – means the dressed carcass and carcass parts of an animal

Meat product – means a product containing meat.

Demonstrate on two separate occasions

Consideration and Proposed Resolution: Noted

Thank you for your feedback.

Number of assessments left as 'one occasion' after a lot of support to say that only once was necessary.

Organisation Type: Registered Training Organisation

Coverage: VIC

Stakeholder Comments:

Might a BSB / generic unit be substituted here?

Consideration and Proposed Resolution: Noted

Thank you for your feedback.

The development team have researched units from other training packages - unfortunately no unit available to meet the specific need identified for working in the meat industry.

I agree that the BSBXCM401 should be used as this is a more robust unit and I believe is a better unit than the current one. The knowledge evidence is more, but what is covered is important for communication skills. I support the deletion of AMPX418 for the BSB unit.

Stakeholder Comments:

- I would add to the definition is that a micro meat processing establishment is a premise where the business owner has direct oversight of all processing activities conducted on-site.
- The training content doesn't change and acknowledge the elimination of hours to be logged
- Moving forward for verification of inspection process of utilising video footage as a follow up on skills and knowledge in the workplace and shared with the RTO to cover off all species being processed

Consideration and Proposed Resolution: Adopted

Thank you for your feedback.

Content added to the CVIG to clarify the definition of micro plant and 'video footage' added as a form of evidence'.

Organisation Type: Other

Stakeholder Comments:

In MSY units, AS 4696:2007 Hygienic Production and Transportation of Meat and Meat Products for Human Consumption or its successor update the reference to be the applicable Australian Standard.

Consideration and Proposed Resolution: Adopted

Thank you for your feedback.

Title of AS removed and replaced with 'relevant Australian Standard' in all MSY units, as suggested.

Stakeholder Comments:

In the KE, 'anatomy and physiology of lambs, sheep and goats, including skeletal structure, organs, circulatory, digestive, urinary, nervous and respiratory systems' change to anatomy as it relates to ante and post-mortem of inspection of that species

Consideration and Proposed Resolution: Adopted

Thank you for your feedback.

KE dot point updated in all MSY units, as suggested.
